Traci's Bio leading Breast Cancer Survivorship Organization gains support from the first institution built by a major United States city to house and interpret the life and work of African Americans.

Pink Sisters Chronicles Book Release V Hosted by Traci's BIO (Beautiful Inside & OUT)

Drexel Hill PA , August 03, 2021 – On Sunday, September 26, 2021, from 12PM to 4PM The DrexelBrook Event Center will serve as the official host for The Pink Sister Chronicles Volume V "When I Got The Call " book release Brunch Gala. The event will take place at DrexelBrook Event Center located at 4700 Drexelbrook Drive, Drexel Hill PA 19026. The Pink Sister Chronicles examines the stories of women from diverse backgrounds who share their true stories about treating the disease, and will include a foreword by Dr. Marisa C. Weiss, MD, Main Line Health Director of Breast Radiation Oncology and Breast Health Outreach at Lankenau Medical Center and Founder and President of Breastcancer.org.

"The partnership of Donors and Sponsors will be beneficial to Traci's BIO and the individuals the organization serves," states Traci Smith, Founder of Traci's BIO. "The Cancer Community has strong core values to work together with all stakeholders to address the needs of our community and raise awareness and empower neighbors to take a more active role in the health of our community – both are also extremely important to helping Traci's BIO move our mission forward."

According to Cancer.org, treatment that helps patients deal with their emotions will help them have a better quality of life, and if you can reduce distress that comes with coping with cancer, it can help patients manage the treatment better. The research also stressed the importance of recognizing and being comfortable with feelings of anger, stress and anxiety. Communicating this will prevent patients from feeling isolated and believing they are wrong or the only ones experiencing these emotions.

Traci's BIO goal for The Pink Sisters Chronicle is to create messaging that encourages transparency of both good and not so good emotions that comes with being diagnosed with cancer, and use the book as a tool to manage those emotions and help patients and families develop positive attitudes, develop a better quality of life and change how patients and non-patients react to breast cancer.

All proceeds from the book will support Traci's BIO, a non-profit survivorship organization dedicated to helping cancer survivors maintain a level of normalcy, while going through an abnormal process of life.
